

Nadi Dosha Cancellation, Remedy and Solution

Nadi Dosha Cancellation

Marriage is a very auspicious thing in one's life. To make it the best we do kundali milan or horoscope matching. It is strongly believed that even if the matching points or the Guna Milan score is high, one should not marry in the same Nadi, as same Nadi means Nadi Dosha. Nadi dosha is a serious imperfection and is likely to affect health, married life, and family happiness. The importance of Nadi dosha can be derived from the fact that it has the maximum score in Ashtkoot Guna milan. It is important because it brings severe health issues and danger to the couple and also the progeny or the child.

What is Nadi Dosha in Horoscope Matching?

There are 28 matching points if we subtract 8 points which are prescribed for Nadi. Incidentally, when there is zero in front of Nadi it is considered a dosha. However, the point that I'm making is that in spite of the high score we see that is 28 out of 36 total points, marriage is not recommended since there is a nadi dosha.

There is another very important reason because of which marriage between the same Nakshatras is not recommended. Such people are likely to have the same planetary period. This is very important to note as the Dasha period is considered from the birth Nakshatra. Therefore if the planets are well placed both will have good time, but if they are ill-placed then both will have bad time simultaneously. Good or Bad effects will thus get multiplied. Good effects are welcome though, but the ill effects may become difficult to bear.

As a Vedic astrologer with past experience of more than 20 years in Horoscope reading, especially relationships and horoscope matching, please note that high matching points in Guna Milan are never a guarantee to happy married life. The most important is the placements of the planets in the native's horoscopes. If the 7th house (which is the house of marriage) and the lord is strong and the karka which is Venus in a male chart and Jupiter in a female chart is strong and well placed, the native will be bestowed with marital happiness. Therefore I always insist that a Grah Milan which is a matching of the planets is more important than Guna Milan and remedies for any dosha in Kundali Milan like Nadi Dosha, Mangal Dosha, Bhakoot Dosha should be done before solemnizing the marriage. It is very important to check if Nadi dosha gets cancel. If the dosha gets cancel, then no remedy / Parihar is required.

Below is the Division of Nakshatras according to Nadi

The 27 Nakshatra is divided into three categories called Nadis. The three Nadies are:

1. Adya – It means beginning, Ashwini is the first amongst Adya Nadi Nakshatras.
2. Madhya – It means middle, Bharani is the first among Madhya Nadi Nakshatras.
3. Antya – It means the end. Krittika is the first amongst the Antya Nadi Nakshatras.

Below is the List of Nakshtras and how they are divided in various Nadi Categories:

AADYA: Ashwini (1st Nakshatra) , Ardra (6th Nakshatra), Punarvasu (7th Nakshtra), Uttara Phalguni (12th Nakshtra), Hasta (13th Nakshtra), Jyeshtha (13th Nakshtra), Moola (19th Nakshtra), Shatabhisha (24 Nakshtra), P.Bhadra (25th Nakshtra)

Madhya: Bharna (2nd Nakshtra), Mrigashira (5th Nakshtra), Pushya (8th Nakshtra), P. Phalguni (11th Nakshtra), Chitra(14th Nakshatra), Anuradha (17th Nakshtra), P. Ashadh (20th Nakshatra), Dhanishtha (24th Nakshtra), Uttara Bhadra (26)

Antya: Krittika (3rd Nakshtra), Rohini (4th Nakshatra), Ashlesha (9th Nakshatra), Makha (10th Nakshatra), Swati (15th Nakshatra), Vishakha (16th Nakshatra), UAshadh (21th Nakshatra), Shravana

(22nd Nakshatra), Revati (27th Nakshatra)

Is Nadi Dosha applicable only to Brahmins?

This is another absurd thing that you get to hear from people that Nadi dosha is only applicable to Brahmins. I will explain in detail below, that Nadi dosha is applicable to all and not only to Brahmins. As per the Caste system in India, the Brahmins held the top position in society, because at that time there were no universities, education systems like today, their contribution to society was enormous. At that time there were only Gurukuls, ashrams and Brahmins were responsible for spreading Vedic knowledge and wisdom in the society, besides carrying religious activities. Therefore Brahmins were strictly restricted from marrying in case of Nadi dosha, because as caretaker of education, knowledge and holding the principles of “Dharma” in the society. If they don’t have children then that knowledge and wisdom will not be passed to future generations. Therefore Brahmins were not allowed to marry in case of Nadi dosha. However, Nadi dosha certainly affects everyone irrespective of Caste, Creed, Race or religion, as Nadi dosha is formed based upon your birth chart and not on your varna.

Nadi Dosha Cancellation / Remedies/ Solution Rules:

Contrary to what remedies you will get online which includes puja done from Brahmins etc. Many people do not understand the concept of Nadi and what is its importance. Why it is important that there is no Nadi dosha during Kundli Milan. If I can explain in a simple way, Nadi is like a blood group which is based upon the Ayurveda concept of vata pitta kapha and it is believed that mixing of the bloods is good for avoiding miscarriage during pregnancy and having healthy children. Nadi dosha also indicates health issues to the couple which should never be ignored. In case there is Nadi Dosha, then marriage should only be done if there is No Nadi Paad Vedha.

When you are doing any puja for any dosha, you are seeking Divine Blessings, however, it does not remove the dosha. The Puja only gives extra strength, endurance and ability to withstand problems. The dosha stands irrespective of which puja you do. By checking Nadi Paad Vedha, we are digging deep in both the horoscope charts and checking if the Nadi as it stands is going to affect the health of the couple and healthy progeny. If there is no Nadi Paad Vedha, marriage can be considered as it means that despite Nadi dosha coming in the Guna Milan, Nadi dosha effects will not be there.